TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN.

I take pleasure in presenting to you, in as compact form as is consistent with perspicuity, and in accordance with the provisions of chapter 161, laws of 1885, tabular statements of the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state of Wisconsin, on the 20th day of June, 1885, compiled from the returns of the several census enumerators. The number of inhabitants in each county, town, city and village in the state, is shown, together with a recapitulation by counties of the total number of inhabitants and their nativity; comparative tables showing increase or loss in population in the several counties, towns, cities and villages (of 1,000 inhabitants and over) over the census of 1880. The number of soldiers and sailors of the late war, and militia in each county.

Also tabular statements of the agricultural, mineral and manufacturing interests of each town, city and village, together with recapitulations showing the total agricultural and manufacturing resources of our state.

In order to arrive at the results above enumerated, it has taken the unceasing and laborious efforts of a number of experts in my clerical force to correct and compile the returns forwarded to my office. Reports of the statistics were especially faulty, both as to omissions and footings, and in order to insure approximate accuracy, every return was carefully examined and refooted. Considering the amount of labor performed, the systematic, practical and useful arrangement of the statistics obtained, it cannot be otherwise than that the money paid in obtaining these results was well expended. I desire to congratulate the people of our great state on the marked increase in population. Thus:

In 1875 our population was.....	1, 236, 729
In 1880 .....	1, 315, 480
In 1885 .....	1, 563, 423

The latter being a gain of almost 19 per cent. over 1880 and a little more than 26 per cent. over 1875.

The substantial growth exhibited in our material interest has been just as marked thus demonstrating that Wisconsin is steadily and solidly growing in wealth, population and importance. The construction of numerous lines of railway in the northern part of our state is rapidly developing that portion of our commonwealth, and without doubt the next five years will show a larger per centage of increase in population than any preceding like period in our history.

In conclusion I wish to call particular attention to the list of all ex-soldiers and sailors who served in the late war residing within our state. This list will be invaluable to those who need the names of comrades. It is, in my opinion, an eminently proper thing that the names of those who risked their lives for their country in her severest ordeal should be kept fresh in the minds of the people at least during the few remaining years of life yet left for the old soldiers.

Very Respectfully

ERNST G. TIMME,

Secretary of State.

MADISON, WIS., JANUARY 1st, 1886.
